Social Media Disclaimer

The Copley-Fairlawn City Schools believe that social media can be used as a tool to inform our families and community of information, events and awards happening throughout our school district.

Our social media platforms, on occasion, may provide a forum for our students to showcase their talent through the arts, projects and/or literary works. Although we strive to provide a forum that is free from controversial topics, we also encourage our students to examine all subjects from a critical viewpoint in order to engage in productive discussions which may improve critical thinking skills. We will not and cannot arbitrarily censor our students.

For this reason, the opinions expressed by students and/or staff on the Copley-Fairlawn City Schools social media platforms do not necessarily reflect the views or opinions of the administration, Board of Education or staff.

We ask that all comments, private messages, and other interactions on CFCS social media accounts be respectful and courteous. We reserve the right to remove or hide content that includes, but is not limited to:

- individually identifiable student information
- copyrighted material posted without permission
- spam, advertising, or commercial solicitations or information
- obscene, defamatory, harassing, discriminatory, violent, vulgar, hateful, or sexually-oriented material
- content that threatens to disrupt the educational process of the school, damage other individuals or advocate conduct that otherwise is inconsistent with the shared values of a civilized social order (e.g., advocating drug or alcohol use);
- threatens any person or group within the school or advocates unlawful discrimination;
- advocates violation of the law or official school regulations;

We also reserve the right to temporarily block or ban users whose posts or comments on CFCS social media pages fall within the above categories.
