REPORTING ABSENCES

When absent from school, a student is to have his/her parents or guardian phone the school 330-664-4823 before 9:00 a.m. on the day of absence so that the reason for the absence will be known. The attendance office routinely calls parents/guardians to verify absence. Parents should not be offended by the call. The call is only to ensure the location and safety of the student. Without parent contact, a student will be presumed unexcused and dealt with accordingly.

NOTE: Doctor and dentist appointments should be made after school hours when possible. Regardless of the reason, if a student misses more than 2½ hours of the school day, the student will be charged a minimum of ½ day absence.

SMOKE SIGNALS

Look for it the 1st of each month on the CHS website! Issue submission deadline is the 20th of each month. Issues of Smoke Signals can be accessed online by:

Attention Parents: YEARBOOK Info

Looking for a creative way to tell your student, “I love you and I’m proud of you”? Place a recognition ad in the yearbook!

In the future, seeing your message will bring a smile as they remember your love and support during these important years. It’s easy to create a recognition ad online through the ReplayIt app or by clicking on this link:

http://jostensadservice.com?REF=A06377600

All information about pricing and designs are available once you click on the link.

Reserve a space for your ad today to say how proud you are. Like the yearbook, your message will be a permanent memory.

The AP Biology students and other students are participating in a nationwide tournament that is a take off on the NBA’s March Madness. March Mammal Madness was created by a professor at Arizona State University. This is a fun and educational experience where the students choose their picks from animal/plant “competitors” to determine which creature has the best adaptations for survival and survive to take the title of champion.

“Congratulations to the DODGEFATHERS for winning the National Honor Society Dodgeball Tournament! They tore up the competition going UNDEFEATED in a double elimination tournament. Champions include “the Enforcer” Josh Davis, Bradley “Goliath” Dimick, “the Honorary Team Captain” Tyson Durant, Clark “the Shark” Evans, “330 Productions” Jackson Madden, and Micah Villavong!”

END OF COURSE TESTING SPRING DATES

Each spring, our students take the End of Course (EOC) assessments as mandated by the Ohio Department of Education. Students must take an EOC assessment in the year that they take the corresponding course. In order to provide the best environment for the students who are required to take a test while minimally impacting instruction, we will modify several school days, similarly to how we run our semester exams. Students are only required to report to CHS on the date and time that they have an assessment. Students not required to take an EOC assessment do not need to report to CHS on that specific test day. Please see the Spring EOC exam dates below under Testing Wednesdays; specific times will be released closer to the testing days. Supervision will be provided for any student unable to arrive late or leave early.

In order to be eligible to earn a high school diploma, a student must accumulate a total of 18 graduation points from all seven (7) EOC assessments. A student will score anywhere from a one (1) through a five (5) (with 5 being the best) on each EOC assessment. Therefore, the EOC assessments are an important element in a student’s high school career. Please ensure that your student gets plenty of rest, eats a health breakfast, and attends school on his or her scheduled test days.

Invitations will be sent home in April to those students that will be recognized.
COLLEGE VISIT TIPS

TEN WAYS TO TEST DRIVE A COLLEGE
1. Learn about the college before you visit.
2. Evaluate the environment of the campus.
3. Visit the admissions office and participate in the information session.
4. Tour the campus, with and without a guide.
5. Check out the dorms.
6. Arrange for campus meetings with department heads in the subjects that interest you, coaches in sports where you excel, and former graduates from your high school.
7. Sit in on classes and check out the library.
8. Look into life beyond academics.
9. Have lunch in the student center and watch student interactions.
10. After each visit, write down your impressions of the college.

A CHECKLIST FOR CAMPUS VISITS

Timing Visits
When it comes time for a formal visit, be sure to schedule it ahead of time with the Admissions Office of the college or university when you can arrange for both a campus tour and an interview. Plan your visit for a weekday when college is in session and avoid registration or exam periods. It helps to have walked around the campus – to get a feel for the institution – before going for your interview.

Campus Tour
By all means, take the campus tour and don’t hesitate to ask questions of your guide. If the tour doesn’t include them, try to visit some student rooms, the library, and the department in which you may major.

The Interview
Dress appropriately and arrive five minutes early. Be prepared to answer such questions as “What makes you interested in our college?” and “What are your special interests?” And ask some questions yourself, but not about things which could be answered if you had studied the catalog. Act as if you are interested in the school and reiterate your interest at the end of the conversation. Ask if all your papers are in order, if it is that time of year. If you plan to file for financial aid, ask how and when that should be done.

Paper Work
Bring extra copies of your resume to leave with the interviewer or others, if needed. Use the interviewer’s name and title when you write to thank him or her for the interview and to repeat your special interest in the school.

Free Time
Spend some time on your own around the campus. Take a look at the bulletin boards, news in the school paper, and the building which you’re most likely to use. Try to talk to some students. Ask the prospective students with whom you took the campus tour about their impressions and comparisons with other schools which they have visited. Try to sit in on a class or two; this may be arranged by the admissions office or perhaps by asking permission of the professor ahead of time.

Final Steps
When you get a breather, sit down and write up your impressions of the school. What did you like? Not like? What questions remain? What actions do you need to take?
Graduating Senior Information

Mrs. Carothers (Senior Class Advisor), Mr. Coury and CHS Guidance will be meeting with seniors during Learning Lab on April, 10, 2019 to discuss all things related to the end of the school year. Additionally, a Senior Graduation Guide will be mailed home and available to all seniors in early April. This guide will provide information regarding senior events, graduation requirements, senior exams, Prom, After Prom and Commencement. Information is also available on the CHS Website under Resources-Graduating Senior Information.

Important Reminders:

• Every Senior must complete twelve (12) hours of service in his/her community through two different volunteer experiences in order to graduate. Completed forms (available online & in the office) are due to Mrs. Lalos no later than April 30, 2019. Those seniors that need to take final exams will do so the week of May 20th.

• Prom/After Prom is Saturday, May 18, 2019. More info to come!!

• Senior Class Awards Ceremony: Thursday, May 23, 2019 @ 8:30 a.m. This event will recognize the recipients of our local scholarships and is separate from our Academic Awards Assembly. Invitations to those that will be recognized will be distributed prior to the event, but all seniors and families are welcome to attend.

• Mandatory Commencement practice is Friday, May 24, 2019 @ 8:00 a.m.

• The Class of 2019 Commencement: Sunday, May 26, 2019 @ 2:00 p.m. Stay tuned for ticket info.

• Look for the Senior “Guide to Graduation” booklet that will be mailed home in early spring. This booklet will contain detailed information regarding the last few month’s events surrounding graduation.

Scholarships

All applications are available in the top drawer of the filing cabinet in the lobby of the Guidance Office. Scholarship opportunities are also posted on the Guidance Website.

Keep Us Informed of Any Scholarships You Earn

Any senior who receives a scholarship or award should provide a copy of the award letter to Mrs. Kramer, our Guidance Secretary. Inform us of all the scholarships and awards, not just the one awarded by the college you will attend. We will keep an up-to-date record of scholarships and awards won by the members of the senior class and we will distribute that list at Commencement on Sunday, May 26th in the gymnasium.

As everyone who has held a job eventually learns, your future career prospects depend on the skills you have to offer an employer. Workers with competitive skills are the ones who get the job. The skills you should develop depend on your interests, abilities and aptitudes, resources, and career goals. But, with uncertain economic times ahead, it’s important to look at the skills that will be useful in advancing your career. Here are 10 skills that the U.S. Department of Labor says are on employers’ wish lists:

1. Problem Solving Skills – Many of the tasks we face each day in our personal and business lives are complex in nature. People who can identify problems, research solutions, and make effective decisions are increasingly desired in such fields as business administration, management consulting, public administration, science, medicine, and engineering.

2. Vocational-Technical Skills – Today, technology is advanced in all areas of human endeavor. Installation, testing, and repair of most electrical, electronic, and mechanical equipment in fields such as engineering, telecommunications, automotive, transportation, and aerospace require people with advanced vocational-technical skills.

3. Human Relations Skills – All companies with more than one employee face inevitable problems dealing with how people interact with each other. Often, the success of a company depends upon how well people can work together. It is the job of human resource managers, personnel officers, department managers, and administrators to understand the needs of workers and how best to meet those needs within the confines of the employment environment.

4. Computer Programming Skills – Understanding how to harness a computer’s power and how to program it to meet the specific needs of a particular company can dramatically increase your employment opportunities. Specific languages most in demand today include C++, Java, Visual Basic, Unix, and SQL Server.

5. Teaching/Training Skills – Our modern society develops and collects more new data in a day than our ancestors did in a year. As a result, we will need people with teaching and training skills in the field of education, social services, management consulting and commerce.

6. Science and Math Skills – Great advances are being made daily in the fields of science, medicine, and engineering. Bright minds skilled in the sciences and math are needed to meet the challenges of these fields.

7. Money Management Skills – With Americans enjoying a longer life span, it’s essential today to carefully plan one’s finances to ensure a comfortable life and retirement. Investment brokers and security officers, retirement planners, accountants and CPAs are in continual demand to meet this need.

8. Information Management Skills – In the Age of Information, America now produces information as the basis of its economic system, and individuals who possess the ability to manage information are critical to most businesses. Systems analysts, information technologists, database administrators, and telecommunication engineers are examples of people with highly developed information management skills.

9. Foreign Language Skills – America depends upon many nations for raw materials and goods, and it relies on global markets for goods and services. The ability to speak a foreign language (Russian, Japanese, Chinese, and German) can enhance your employment opportunities and compensation.

10. Business Management Skills – The business of America is business! Understanding of how to run a successful company is high in demand. At the core of these skills is the ability to manage people, systems, resources, and finances, to understand the needs of consumers, and to translate those needs into business opportunities.
